Getting Ready

For the Second Plague

Corona – One, the Start of Seven

Sixteen years ago on 10/7/04 and then on 4/18/06, the Creator Yahweh inspired that the world be told the first plague of seven plagues was coming and that it would be a very hurtful, painful, grievous sore upon those who have the mark of the beast. It was prophesied to be in every nation for the period of 5 moons (months).

The first plague came and is now diminishing as I write this second warning on 4/21/2020. Because there are six more coming behind that first one and will be even more damaging than the first. In fact, the end of the seven last plagues comes with nuclear burning of the earth, and the death of billions, not millions but billions of people.

The first warning of the seven last plagues Yahweh inspired to be brought in the year 1976 in the books, The Mark of the Beast, Volumes 1 & 2. Yahweh inspired those books to be published by His House. The establishment of His House is another fulfilled Prophecy for this generation.

This Generation?

This generation was spoken of by the Prophesied Savior, Yahshua, Whose Name is given in Scripture in The Book of Yahweh, and the versions such as the King James version, in which it is translated Joshua. According to the Words of Yahshua Messiah, this generation would begin with the start of the nuclear bombs that, as He said, will darken the sun in this generation.

Will, or can, nuclear bombs darken the sun? See the article below.

The following article and essay from Discover magazine deals directly with the consequences of nuclear war.

Dr. Thomas was one of the four American scientists who, at the invitation of Senators Edward Kennedy and Mark Hatfield, met in Washington in December for a three-hour open discussion with four Soviet counterparts. The subject of their discussion: the nuclear winter (DISCOVER).

Two scientific reports have recently been published, dealing with the probable effects of nuclear war upon the earth's climate and the life of the planet. The first discovery is already widely known within the scientific community of climatologists, geophysicists, and biologists here and abroad, and has been confirmed in detail by scientists in the Soviet Union. Computer models demonstrate that a nuclear war involving the exchange of less than one third of the total American and Soviet arsenal will change the climate of the entire Northern Hemisphere, shifting it abruptly from its present seasonal state to a long, sunless, frozen night. This will be followed after some months by a settling of nuclear soot and dust, then by a new malignant kind of sunlight, with all of its ultraviolet band, capable of blinding most terrestrial animals, no longer shielded from the earth by the ozonosphere. In the same research, new calculations of the extent and intensity of radioactive fallout predict the exposure of large land areas to much more intense levels of radiation than expected. The report is referred to as TTAPS, an acronym derived from the investigators' names: Turco, Toon, Ackerman, Pollack, and Sagan.

The second piece of work, by Paul Ehrlich and 19 other distinguished biologists, demonstrates that the predictions of TTAPS mean nothing less than the extinction of much of the earth's biosphere, very possibly involving the Southern Hemisphere as well as the Northern.

Taken together, the two papers change everything in the world about the prospect of thermonuclear warfare. They have already received a careful and critical review by scientists representing the disciplines concerned, here and abroad, and there already appears to be an unprecedented degree of concurrence with the technical details as well as the conclusions drawn. In the view of some referees, the TTAPS report may even be understating the climatological damage implied by its data. The 20 biologists' paper, summarized by Professor Ehrlich, represents the consensus arrived at by 40 biological scientists at a meeting in Woods Hole, Massachusetts, last spring.

It is a new world, demanding a new kind of diplomacy and a new logic.

Up to now, the international community of statesmen, diplomats, and military analysts has tended to regard the prospect of nuclear war as a problem only for the adversaries in possession of the weapons. Arms control and the endless negotiations aimed at the reduction of nuclear explosives have been viewed as the responsibility, even the prerogative, of those few nations in actual confrontation. Now all that is changed. There is no nation on earth free of the jeopardy of destruction if any two countries, or groups of countries, embark upon a nuclear exchange. If the Soviet Union and the United States, and their respective allies in the Warsaw Pact and NATO, begin to launch their missiles beyond a still undetermined and ambiguous minimum, neutral states like Sweden and Switzerland are in for the same long-term effects, the same slow death, as the actual participants. Australia and New Zealand, Brazil and South Africa, could have as much to worry about as West Germany if a full-scale exchange were to take place far to the north.

Up to now, we have all tended to regard any conflict with nuclear arms as an effort by paired adversaries to settle such issues as territorial dominance or ideological dispute. Now, with the new findings before us, it is clear that any territory gained will be, at the end, a barren wasteland, and any ideology will vanish in the death of civilization and the permanent loss of mankind's memory of culture.

The risks of this kind of war have conventionally been calculated by the numbers of dead human beings on either side at the end of the battle, armies and noncombatants together. The terms "acceptable" and "unacceptable," signifying so-and-so many million human casualties, have been used for making cool judgments about the need for new and more accurate weapon systems. From now on, things are different. Leave aside the already taken for granted estimate that in an all-out exchange of, say, 5,000 megatons, something like a billion people would be killed outright by blast, heat, and radiation. Set aside as well the likely fact that more than another billion would die later on, from the delayed effects of the climate and radioactive fallout.

Discover magazine, January/February, 1984

Think now: Yahshua's Prophecy was written in the year 33 A.Y. (A.Y. means After Yahshua. A.Y. is referred to as A.D. by those who replaced the Savior's Name).

The generation of the nuclear bombs started in the same year as the computer, 1934.

Read this Prophecy in your own bible, or even better read from The Book of Yahweh, from where your version came.

Mattithyah 24:3

Now as He sat on the Mount of Olives, the Disciples came to Him privately, saying; Tell us, when will these things be? What will be the sign of Your coming and The End of the Ages?

Verse 3: notice, the subject is The End.

Now read:

Mattithyah 24:7, 21-22

7 For nation will rise against nation, and religion against religion, and there will be famines, and pestilences; disease epidemics, and earthquakes; environmental disasters, in place after place:

21 For then will be Great Tribulation, such as has not come to pass since the beginning of the world to this time—no, nor ever will be.

22 And unless those days were shortened, there would no flesh be saved; but for the Elect's sake, those days will be shortened.

Verse 21: Did you notice the phrase: Great Tribulation?

Now read the last part:

Mattithyah 24:29

Immediately, but after the Great Tribulation of those days will the sun be darkened, and the moon will not give her light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken.

Verse 29: notice, that's at the end of the tribulation when the sun will be darkened.

The tribulation?

Mattithyah 24:21

For then will be Great Tribulation, such as has not come to pass since the beginning of the world to this time—no, nor ever will be.

The seven last plagues are, in fact, the great or greatest tribulation, and there are many Prophecies that go with and describe the seven last plagues prophesied for this time period.

The coronavirus is in its last days of five moons, as given by Yahweh. It has been said by President Trump and many others that there has never been anything like this any time in world history.

Major Disaster Declared in All 50 American States at Once, First Time in History

US 00:47 GMT 12.04.2020

It is the first time in US history that a major disaster has been declared for the entire country, as the number of confirmed cases in the ongoing deadly coronavirus pandemic tops 530,000 in the US, taking more than 20,000 lives.

US President Donald Trump issued a major disaster declaration for Wyoming on Saturday, meaning that now the declaration applies to every state in the country due to the novel coronavirus pandemic. It is the first time in history, according to Deputy Press Secretary Judd Deere.

Those words were used in Prophecy 2,000 years ago, and now that time is here.

Read Yahshua's Words again:

Mattithyah 24:21-22

21 For then will be Great Tribulation, such as has not come to pass since the beginning of the world to this time—no, nor ever will be.

22 And unless those days were shortened, there would no flesh be saved; but for the Elect's sake, those days will be shortened.

The first plague of the seven last plagues was the worst the world has ever seen. The six plagues to follow are far worse than the first.

Think! Yahshua told those of us living in this nuclear generation that we would see nuclear bombs that will darken the sun in this generation. We can now clearly see. That Prophecy started this generation in the year 1934.

Prophecies show that we are in the last 3½ years of this present prophesied generation.

Read this:

Mattithyah 24:3, 7, 21-22, 29, 33-34

3 Now as He sat on the Mount of Olives, the Disciples came to Him privately, saying; Tell us, when will these things be? What will be the sign of Your coming and The End of the Ages?

7 For nation will rise against nation, and religion against religion, and there will be famines, and pestilences; disease epidemics, and earthquakes; environmental disasters, in place after place:

21 For then will be Great Tribulation, such as has not come to pass since the beginning of the world to this time—no, nor ever will be.

22 And unless those days were shortened, there would no flesh be saved; but for the Elect's sake, those days will be shortened.

29 Immediately, but after the Great Tribulation of those days will the sun be darkened, and the moon will not give her light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken.

33 In the same way, when you see all these things, know that His coming and The End of the Ages are near, at the very door.

34 Truly I say to you: That generation will not pass away, until all these things are fulfilled.

Now it's here.

The seven last plagues begin in this last 3½ years of this generation and they will finish in this same 3½ years. That is as sure as having nuclear bombs that will darken the sun and the worst tribulation ever in the history of the world.

Mattithyah 24:21-22

21 For then will be Great Tribulation, such as has not come to pass since the beginning of the world to this time—no, nor ever will be.

22 And unless those days were shortened, there would no flesh be saved; but for the Elect's sake, those days will be shortened.

Remember Yahshua's Words—the greatest tribulation ever.

Mattithyah 24:21

For then will be Great Tribulation, such as has not come to pass since the beginning of the world to this time—no, nor ever will be.

Why are so many young people being hospitalized with severe cases of coronavirus?

Published: March 27, 2020 at 7:41 p.m. ET

By Elisabeth Buchwald

A teen in Los Angeles could be the first person under 18 to die of the disease in the U.S., and nearly 54% of hospitalized coronavirus patients in New York were between 18 and 49.

The notion that coronavirus is “just a cold” or “no worse than the flu” for young people is proving to be untrue.

“Worse Than Anything We’ve Ever Seen”: Frontline Doctors Race to Learn the Mysteries of a Deadly Virus

Months into the pandemic, the novel coronavirus is still largely an unknown—“very perplexing,” says one infectious disease specialist, while another predicts the death toll “could easily be 1 million.”

BY DIANA FALZONE

APRIL 7, 2020

“The infection itself does have some perplexing features,” said Dr. Megan Coffee... “We don’t yet know what we can do to prevent this immunologic response. We also don’t fully understand why some, who are healthy, go on to have severe disease and others, with more risk, do not.”

“The pandemic of 1918...was associated with bacterial as well as viral pneumonia, which does not seem to be the case with the novel coronavirus,” said Dr. Joseph M. Vinetz, a professor at Yale School of Medicine who also specializes in infectious diseases. “But we still don’t know whether coronavirus can lead to secondary or superimposed bacterial pneumonia in addition to [causing] immune damage to the lungs, which is the primary cause of severe illness and death.” This coronavirus, he said, is puzzling due to its “unique combination of asymptomatic infectiousness, and the delayed onset of severe disease. Very perplexing.”

Dr. Coffee concurred. “This is the disease we’ve always feared as infectious disease doctors—a respiratory-borne virus that spreads easily person-to-person, but with a high mortality,” she said. “Those of us who have worked on Ebola and other crises have feared for a while [that] this would be worse than anything we have ever seen.”

She added, “we really don’t know the mortality of this virus.

We're assuming at best it's somewhere around the 1% mark. We can't know at this point. No one knows."

COVID-19 is unlike anything I've ever seen...

By Dr. Tzvi Doron

The coronavirus that causes COVID-19 is unlike anything I've ever seen before, both in our ability to treat and handle it.

There are a number of things we still don't know about this novel virus wreaking havoc throughout the world. Both the medical and scientific communities still have questions about how to treat the virus, all the ways in which it spreads ,and the full spectrum of impacts on those who become infected. One of the only things we can be certain of right now is that COVID-19 is poised to tip the scales of our healthcare system, putting patients and providers on the frontlines of care at risk.

There is only one prophesied place of protection, Yahshua said, and He tells you to seek that place.

Mattithyah 6:33

But seek you first the Kingdom of Yahweh and His Righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

Deuteronomy 12:5, 7-8

5 But you are to seek the Habitation of your Father; The House of Yahweh—the place which Yahweh your Father shall choose out of all your tribes to establish His Name—and there you must go.

7 There, in front of Yahweh your Father, you and your families shall eat, and you shall rejoice in all that you have put your hand to do, because Yahweh your Father has blessed you.

8 You must not at all do as we are doing here this day—every man doing whatever is right in his own eyes—

In This Generation—

The Last Days,

The End

Read and believe:

Luke 24:25

Then He said to them: O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that Yahweh's Prophets have spoken!

Micahyah 4:1-3

1 But in the Last Days it will come to pass that the mountain; promotion, of The House of Yahweh will be established in the chief of the nations. It will be raised above all congregations; and all peoples will eventually flow to it.

2 And many nations will come and say; Come, and let us go up to the mountain; uplifting, of Yahweh, and to the House of the Father of Yaaqob, and He will teach us of His Ways, and we will walk in His Paths. Because the Laws will depart from Zion, and the Word of Yahweh from Yerusalem.

3 And He will judge between many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they will beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks. Nation will not lift up sword against nation, nor will they learn war anymore.

Verse 1: Did you see the phrase: the Last Days?

There are other Prophecies showing the seven last plagues will end with nuclear burning. Those who do what the Savior said to do in this generation will see the end destruction, but Prophecy says it will not come near them, if...
